

In this workshop we will make miniature theatre sets where we can tell stories about our adventures outside and the things we have seen along the way. What stories would you like to tell? Switch on the light and bring the stories out of the shadows.

Shadows and light

1: Draw around your handmade or recycled card tube

2: The circle gives you the height and width to work within. Decide what your story's about and sketch out the shapes.

3: Make little tabs to glue to and act as feet.

4: Measure the length of the tube on a separate piece of paper, mark it and cut it out. This will go inside the tube. Glue your figures in the position you want them to be when the paper is curved.

5: Curve your paper.

6: Slide it into the tube.

7: Glue around the edge of the tube and secure a piece of tracing paper.

8: Hold it up to the light. To develop this idea, you could build up a collection of tubes as chapters from a bigger story.
